*Dominican Republic: (Information as of 4:30 AM EDT) The 21-round mortar barrage on the rebel zone in Santo Domingo yesterday furnishes anti-Imbert material for the pro-rebel delegates at the UN Security Council.

The UN military observer in the Dominican Republic, General Rikhye, visited the scene of the attack and reported that a girl was killed in the firing which he alleges came from an area in the northern part of the city occupied by General Wessin y Wessin's troops. A report is expected soon from an Inter-American Peace Force investigating team.

The rebel radio branded the bombardment a "new act of genocide carried out by the enemies of the people." No mention was made of the attack in the UN Security Council meeting yesterday. It is expected, however, that Caamano's representative and the Soviet and Cuban delegates will use it at the scheduled Thursday meeting to dramatize their case against Imbert's government and the need for an enlarged UN role in the prolonged crisis.

NOTES

Greece: Supporters of ousted premier Papandreou, encouraged by the Communist-front United Democratic Left (EDA) party, have threatened to bring about a general strike in protest against the Athanasiadis-Novas government. [Papandreou's son, Andreas, apparently has been soliciting EDA support for his father, although Papandreou himself probably prefers no direct link with the extreme left.] Meanwhile, reports and rumors of a possible compromise settlement of the crisis continue, but there is no solid evidence that the principals are yet ready to make the required concessions.

Lebanon: Premier Uwayni's resignation yesterday came after he encountered strong parliamentary opposition to his efforts to purge some administrative and judicial officials. There is no indication as yet that a major crisis is developing. The next move will be up to President Hilu, the dominant power in Lebanese politics, who must either choose a successor or ask Uwayni to reconsider.

Guatemala: In the latest of a series of terrorist actions, guerrillas attacked a United Fruit Company helicopter as it was landing yesterday, killing the American pilot and a local employee. The Guatemalan Communists have for some time been threatening to kill US citizens. [This latest attack, coming after a guerrilla raid against the customs house in the port town of Matias de Galvez on 14 July, could presage a renewal of guerrilla activity in the northeast portion of the country.]
